DAMAGE SUIT OF MRS. WINSLOW AGAINST ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.

The damage suit of Mrs. Mary M. Winslow against the Glendale Electric Light and Power Co. was tried in department 1, Los Angeles, before Judge B. N. Smith and a jury on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

On the 27th day of February, 1907, Mrs. Winslow, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Leavitt, was passing down the west side of Glendale avenue to take the Fourth street car for Los Angeles, while workmen were engaged in removing a wire from a pole a little distance north of the postoffice preparatory to setting the line back into the alley, as directed by the City Council. Mrs. Leavitt, leaving her mother, hurried on and entered the office to get the mail. Mrs. Winslow walking alone was suddenly tripped by a wire about the ankles, and fell with considerable force to the sidewalk, bruising and spraining her left leg, hurting her right wrist and abrading the right cheek. Mr. F. G. Taylor testified that he was thirty or forty feet behind her, saw her fall and hastened at once and assisted her to rise.

Mrs. P. S. McNutt, who but a few moments before had passed over the same walk and tripped on the wire, but did not fall, had made some remark about to the workman standing by (who appears to have been Mr. Henry D. Harvey of Tropico) and passed on to the post office, and was just coming out and also hastened to Mrs. Winslow's assistance.

Mrs. Leavitt appeared on the scene and assisted her mother to the car, on which they proceeded to Los Angeles. Mrs. Winslow testified she was so dazed by the shock that she was not conscious of serious injury at first, but by the time she got to Los Angeles, reaction took place and she was in considerable pain. At the station she was assisted by her son and brother, the limb was bandaged and the party took the car for Long Beach, where she remained in the station for three or four hours, the pain gradually increasing. On the return trip she had to be lifted bodily onto and off the car.

Dr. A. L. Bryant was called and found the injuries as stated and prescribed treatment.

Mrs. Winslow was confined to bed and couch for four or five weeks, unable to turn herself over even with assistance and suffering greatly; at the end of about six weeks she was able to take a few steps with the aid of canes or other support, and though her condition has gradually improved, she has never entirely recovered.

The suit was for $10,000 damages and $200 expenses.

The defense claimed that if Mrs. Winslow did fall as alleged it was through her own contributory negligence; that she should have seen the obstruction and avoided it. That she had been warned by some one, either Mrs. McNutt or Mrs. Leavitt, to look out for the wire, (which she had no recollection of) and which Mrs. McNutt and Mrs. Leavitt both denied, but Mr. Harvey claimed he heard. In the second place admitting she fell and was injured, her injuries were not as claimed. In the third place, granting all that was claimed, the Glendale Light and Power company was not liable because the workmen were not their employes, but employes of Mr. J. H. Seaman, who was not an employe of the company, but an independent contractor, who was himself liable if anybody was, for the accident. Mr. L. C. Brand, president of the company, testified that the corporation was merely a distributing corporation, obtaining its electricity from the Pacific Light and Power Co., and selling it to consumers. That it never had any agents, employes or servants at all, but everything was done by Mr. J. H. Seamans as an independent electrical contractor, who contracted to do the company's work as he contracted to do the work of others.

Mr. Seaman's testimony did not quite agree in all respects with Mr. Brand's and attorneys for plaintiff urged that Mr. Seaman and his men were in fact servants and employes of the company. The judge charged that if Mr. Brand's claim that Mr. Seaman was an independent contractor was correct then the company was not liable; if not, then the company was liable for injuries caused by negligence of its men. If Mrs. Winslow's negligence was the cause of her injury she could not recover. That one passing along the street had a right to suppose it clear of obstruction. After argument, the case on Tuesday afternoon about 4:30, was given to the jury, which after being out about an hour returned a verdict for the plaintiff and awarded her $2000 damages with costs.

W. O. Morton and Dwight Evans Pruitt, of the firm of Morton, Pruitt and Goodrich; with Edgar Leavitt, Esq., as associate counsel, represented the plaintiff, and S. W. Odell, Esq., of the firm of Tanner, Taft and Odell, represented the defendant.

What, if any, further legal proceedings will follow, is not yet known.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

At the regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club Mrs. Robert Morris presided and several business matters of importance were discussed. Among other things, philanthropic work will be taken up, this being something the ladies have long been anxious to do and a committee for a philanthropic department was chosen as follows: Mrs. E. S. Comstock, Mrs. E. D. Goode, Mrs. Robert A. Blackburn, Mrs. Edgar W. Pack. Those appointed on the nominating committee for the coming election of officers were Mrs. E. D. Goode, chairman; Mrs. A. L. Bryant and Mrs. C. F. Parker. On the program committee are Miss Ruth Byram, chairman; Mrs. Edgar W. Pack and Mrs. Danford.

As chairman of the literary program Mrs. Charles E. Stanley gave a most interesting paper on "the Causes and Effects of the Civil War" and she succeeded in arousing great interest in her topic with which she is so thoroughly familiar. A guest of the club was a daughter of Mrs. Morris, the club president, Mrs. Jessie Gale of Greeley, Colo., in which State she is well-known as a prominent club worker.

A FIFTH TUESDAY TEA.

Plans are completed for the Studio tea, to be given by Mrs. Dr. Robert A. Blackburn and Miss Mary Blackburn, for the Tuesday Afternoon Club, Tuesday next. Aside from the hostess, Mrs. James H. Wells, Mrs. J. N. Witham, Mrs. E. D. Goode, will comprise the entertaining committee.

Those pouring tea at the various tables will be Mrs. S. Lawrence Ward, Persian tea; and Mrs. Danford, Mrs. Walter C. Fraley, Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, Miss Ruth Alden Byram. This will be the second of a series of "Library Fund" teas which the ladies of the club have planned to give, and they wish to announce to religious, fraternal and social circles that they will claim every fifth Tuesday for one of these charming functions. As a free library is a benefit to all, everyone interested will be made welcome.

The engineer was instructed to prepare an estimate of cost of said work and if it be sufficient, to prepare the necessary resolution for doing the work under ten-year bond act.

Trustee Watson offered Resolution No. 124, adopting a map showing improvements on a portion of Cedar street, which was adopted.

Trustee Anderson offered a resolution, No. 125, declaring intention to improve a portion of Cedar street, which was adopted.

Editor Glendale News.

Dear Sir: As Mr. Huntington has forfeited the bonus we put in escrow for him to build an electric road from the Eagle Rock road to B street, Glendale, why not offer it to some other company to build us a road? Either from Eagle Rock, or up the Verdugo Road. I propose we give Mr. King's Company right of way through the town either on Fourth or Fifth streets. There is no knowing what they might do if we give them a chance. There is one thing certain, I am going to have a road somewhere, or my money back, wihch I deposited in the bank for that purpose four months ago. It makes no difference to me whether Huntington or King builds the road, or where it comes from or where it goes to if it only comes through East Glendale. My patience is nearly exhausted waiting for the road.

A Citizen on Verdugo Road.

AT CLOVER LAWN POULTRY RANCH.

Calling at this establishment a few days ago, we found Mr. C. M. Walton busily engaged in tearing down his old chicken houses and putting up new ones, smaller, but more complete in all the details which enable him to take care of his flocks of white Leghorns with the least possible waste of energy. The new houses are so arranged that it is rarely necessary to enter the pens. The arrangements permit of cleaning out the houses, putting in food and water and gathering the eggs, from the alley way in front of all the yards. There are about 1900 laying hens in Mr. Walton's yards at present, the output in eggs being from 700 to 1000 daily. Many of these are shipped away for use in incubators, about 25,000 for that purposes having been sold this season. The reputation of the Clover Lawn White Leghorn eggs is well established, some of the purchasers reporting a hatch of from 90 to 97 per cent., although Mr. Walton himself does not insist or guarantee that the percentage be higher than 80. There are 2000 two-weeks old chicks in a healthy condition now in the brooding houses which are heated by hot water. On our visit there a year ago we noted a very ingenious arrangement of pipes for supplying drinking water to the infant chicks. Noticing the absence of these pipes the other day, we were informed that the scheme although successful as a labor saver, was not satisfactory, on account of the difficulty of keeping the water pure. The pipes are, therefore, replaced by much more primitive appliances. Mr. Walton's establishment is solely for the purpose of egg production, the sale of chickens is merely incidental.

CHURCH ELECTION.

The Presbyterian Church of Glendale held its annual meeting on Wednesday evening last. The pastor moderated the meeting and Mr. E. B. Riggs acted as clerk. The following officers were elected:

Elders J. E. Colvin to succeed himself for three years; A. E. Knight, to succeed B. H. Nichols for three years; L. A. Royce to succeed A. R. Ballentyne, for two years; Chas. Hezmalhalch, to succeed Byron Clark, for one year.

Messrs. Dan Campbell, M. P. Harrison, Chas. Hezmalhalch and Garfield Jones, and Mrs. Joseph Banker.

Thanks and regrets were expressed to Mrs. Mary E. Patterson upon her retirement from the board of trustees, where she has served as treasurer with great faithfulness and efficiency, and to Elder Ballentyne who goes to the church at Tropico, and who has served the church as elder and clerk of session for several years.

Reports from all departments of the church were made showing good work for the past year and no indebtedness.

DEATH OF J. G. ROBINSON.

Mr. J. G. Robinson, who with his family, has been residing near Casa Verdugo, died at his residence the early part of this week. Mr. Robinson came to Glendale for his health about three years ago. He was the son of Mr. A. C. Robinson and thirty-one years of age. He leaves a widow and one child. Funeral services were held at the house at 10:30 Wednesday morning, Rev. W. F. Stone officiating. The remains were sent to Los Angeles for cremation.

GLENDALE, CAL., MARCH 28, 1908

San Fernando is to be congratulated upon having been chosen as the location of the "George Junior Republic." It is an institution of great good having for its object the making of good citizens out of what might superficially be thought to be rather unpromising material.

We owe to and hereby properly apologize to our valuable and valued contributor, "X. Ray," for the carelessness of our proof reader who allowed a lower case "s" to pass by him instead of properly referring to "the Snow telescope," in last weeks science article. The error while appealing to the eye and not the ear marks the difference between a snow bank and a man.

At the state Y. M. C. A. convention in Long Beach, in a discussion upon the subject of billiard and pool playing, and as to whether tables for these games should be allowed in the Y. M C. A. rooms, Secretary Luther stated that out of twenty-five secretaries of the association he had written to, he had received replies from twenty-three, saying that they should by all means be allowed.

The latest attempt of Long Beach at wholesale reform is the agitation for an ordinance prohibiting the smoking of cigarettes in its sacred confines.

Evidence of Prosperity

If any one doubts that something is doing in Glendale, a reference to the last copy of the NEWS will disabuse his mind of the idea. It contained forty display advertisements and fifty reading notices in addition to three legal ads and the city advertising. Nearly all of the displays represent business establishments. On every hand we hear reports of reviving business which has been just comparatively quiescent during the recent period of depression now rapidly passing into history. The real merits of this section are becoming better known with the passage of every day. There exists no necessity for any misrepresentation of the facts; that the world become acquainted with all that nature has done for us and something of the little we have done for ourselves, is sufficient; the people will come and the other desirable material things will follow.

Judge Wood and the Orchard Case

The action of Judge Wood of Boise, Idaho, in recommending that Orchard's sentence be commuted to imprisonment for life will, under the circumstances, go far toward preventing the continuance of crimes by the murderous gang that compassed the death of Steunenberg and others.

The judge who presided with impartial justice during the trials of Haywood and Pettibone, is fully convinced of the truth of Orchard's story. He points out in his message on the subject the almost self-evident fact that Orchard could not possibly have stuck with such unvarying tenacity to his story in all its details had it not been true. He was cross-examined by the most able lawyers whose services could be purchased, but in no material detail did they succeed in entrapping him.

Haywood and Pettibone were acquitted, not because the truth of Orchard's story was doubted, but because the fact of conspiracy could not be proved by corroborative testimony. That Orchard has committed crimes enough to justify his hanging several times is indisputable, but he is worth much more to the cause of justice alive than dead.

The Coming Election

For Trustees: Wilmot Parcher, W. A. Anderson, T. W. Watson, H. P. Coker, John A. Cole. Tax Collector and Treasurer, T. W. Doyle. City Clerk, G. B. Woodberry. Marshal, H. N. Miller.

The above is the ticket we expect to support at the polls on April 13th except in one possible contingency, and that is that we become convinced that one of the gentlemen named for trustee above is working for the opposition ticket, his own name being upon both. In that event we shall substitute the name of Mr. Simeon Grant for one of the above-named.

The opposition ticket is as follows: Trustees, Wilmot Parcher, John A. Cole, E. A. Brigham, H. C. Ackley, H. P. Coker. Tax Collector and Treasurer, T. W. Doyle. City Clerk, G. B. Woodberry. Marshal, O. E. Patterson.

Independent candidate for trustee, Simeon Grant.

We may safely assume that every one of the gentlemen named above are honest and capable and that their friends are fully justified in endeavoring to secure their election by any legitimate means. Doing this, the personal element need count for nothing in the campaign and the contest be a fair and square one, carried on along decent lines. Misrepresentation and the injection of any personal animosities into the contest should, and we believe will, defeat its own purpose.

We cannot agree for a moment with our contemporary that the question of "geographical location" cuts no figure in the selection of our city trustees. It is, on the contrary, a matter of prime importance. This fact is so commonly conceded that the law recognizes and provides for it in all municipalities except those of the sixth class. Every member of the board of trustees cannot be equally well acquainted with every portion of the city, nor expected to feel a perfectly unprejudiced interest in all sections; and therefore the law provides in all cities above the sixth class that a representative shall be taken from every ward in choosing trustees or councilmen. There are exactly the same reasons why this should be done in the small city as in the large one. That, as nearly as practicable, every section of our city should have a member of the ruling board of the city upon whom it can depend to look after its own particular needs, is so plain a proposition that at no other time except during the heat of an election contest could any fair-minded citizen be found to dispute it.

Let us glance at the ticket last named. Our city is about a mile and a quarter wide from east to west. We find that of the five members composing the proposed board of trustees, four of them are living in a section of the city ranging from one block to three blocks distant from the western boundary and three of them are to be found less than three blocks distant from the southern city limits. The one living nearest to the eastern line of the city is a mile distant. The fifth member is located just east of the geographical center of the city.

It is not proposed by the gentlemen advocating the election of this ticket to give a single representative to the most thickly populated portion of the city in the neighborhood of Fourth street and Glendale avenue, where the largest proportion of the business houses are located. This question of the resident location of the proposed members of the ruling body of the city is not to be insisted upon through any motive of sectional prejudice, or in recognition of any factional feeling; it is an aspect of the subject which cannot be evaded, even if we were a perfectly harmonious community.

So much for the question of "geographical location." There is another element of weakness in the second ticket which cannot be overlooked. If this ticket should be elected, there would be only one member of the board who would be a "hold-over" with previous experience in the position. This is also a matter of such importance that the law takes cognizance of it by providing that in the organization of the board two members shall be elected for four years and three for two years, the result being that at no time thereafter, under ordinary circumstances, shall there be a board composed entirely of inexperienced members. Owing to two resignations and the death of a member, there are now five places to be filled as in the beginning.

Mr. Parcher is as well qualified to act for the whole board as anyone who could be selected, but it does not seem to us to indicate a desire to get the best results, to select a board of which all but one member are inexperienced in the duties of their position. It is fair to presume that the members of the present board have done some things which in the light of experience they would not do again. Is it necessary that we should risk a repetition of mistakes for which those responsible shall offer the perfectly natural plea that they "didn't know?" The satisfactory performance of the duties of a public office requires a special and peculiar fitness. Time and time again successful business men have been put in public places often to demonstrate their unfitness. This is no argument against putting such men in office, but is mentioned as an illustration of the fact that a public official, new to the place, is always an experiment, and that it is the part of wisdom to retain an official who has been proved honest and trustworthy. We make this claim for the present board, altho not approving all of their actions. All of them have given freely of their time; what assurance have we that new members of the board, however fitted otherwise, would give as much?

Orman, with interest from date until paid at the rate of three per cent per annum, payable annually; and one for the sum of $609.75, payable on the 21st day of December, 1906, to the order of Minnie Schreyer, with interest from date until paid, at the rate of three per cent. per annum, payable annually, and also as security for the payment of any sums of money advanced by John Hobbs, D. F. Orman, and Minnie Schreyer or either of them, their successors or assigns, for the protection of said property; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of said notes in this, that the principal sum of said notes was not paid when due, and the said principal sum of said notes, amounting to $1000.00 in the aggregate, and the interest thereon from December 21, 1901, have continued to be and are now unpaid; and

Whereas, there has been paid by the said D. F. Orman, the holder of one of the said notes, pursuant to the terms of the said deed of trust, the sum of $119.75 for the protection of said property, and the aforesaid principal sum and interest and money so advanced have all continued to be and are now unpaid; and

Whereas, the said D. F. Orman and Minnie Schreyer have declared that default has been made as aforesaid, and did on the 12th day of March, 1908, demand that said Trustee should sell the premises granted by said deed of trust to accomplish the objects of the trust therein expressed.

Terms of sale, cash in gold coin of the United States, twenty per cent. payable at the time of the acceptance of the bid, and the balance on the delivery of the deed.

In witness whereof the said John Hobbs, trustee, has authorized this notice and has affixed hereto his name as such Trustee, this 12th day of March, 1908.

Thursday morning a party of fourteen pedestrians, dressed in khaki suits and with light marching outfit, walked through Glendale, en route for the canyons.

Prof. Robinson, the piano tuner, has gone into partnership with H. D. Trussell, at 819 S. Spring street. The firm will, no doubt, increase the reputation for conscientious work which the professor has already acquired.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Littell, on Dryden street, Thursday evening, their daughter, Miss Clara V. Littell, was married to Mr. J. S. Easterman. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. F. Stone.

"A Meal and the Digestion" is the subject of the last lecture to be given in connection with the course planned by the Missionary Volunteer Society at the Sanitarium. This lecture will be delivered Saturday evening, March 28, 7:30. Bring your friends.

Judge Geo. C. Melrose of Tropico, informs us that Judge Wilbur is entirely mistaken in saying that "the Burbank Justice," has sentenced boys under sixteen years of age to jail. Judge Melrose is the justice alluded to and he asserts that he has never yet sent a youth under sixteen to jail.

Mr. R. M. Neil and family were pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening by the unexpected arrival of Mr. Claud Johnston and bride, who are on their wedding tour, which includes the most prominent points on the coast. Mr. Johnston is a prominent business man of Kansas City, Mo., and a nephew of Mr. Neil.

Mrs. Robert Morris and daughters, Mrs. Charles E. Stanley and Mrs. Gale of Colorado, who is spending a few weeks in Glendale, sojourned on Wednesday at Long Beach, where they spent a pleasant day with Dr. Winegar Simpson, formerly of the Glendale Sanitarium, and visiting among former friends who are spending the winter in Long Beach and vicinity.

Mr. I. T. Chase visited Whittier last week attending the Farmers' Institute meetings there. He reports the sessions all well attended and the exercises of great interest. Mr. Chase was a member for over fifty years of the Horticultural Society at Rochester, N. Y., and takes now, as he has for over half a century an intelligent interest in this and kindred subjects.

Mr. Isaac T. Chase went to Los Angeles the other day to call upon Mrs. May of New York, who with her two daughters is visiting Southern California. Mr. Chase and Mrs. May were schoolmates together in New York State, over sixty years ago. Mrs. May visited Glendale some time ago and expresses herself as liking our town better than any place she has visited.

At the meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood held last Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Chas. Hezmalhalch; vice president, Charles Brown; secretary and treasurer, Ray Morrow. Additional members of the Executive Committee, M. P. Harrison and E. B. Riggs; Federation Committee, Messrs. Harrison and Colvin.

Mr. R. A. Bassett, the real estate rustler, was seen on our streets this week, having just returned from Mexico. He spent six weeks in that country, visiting Guadalajara and other places. He is impressed with the industrial activity which is in evidence in the places he visited and found Guadalajara a city of 150,000 people, a Mexican Paris, where money is abundant and the people lavish in its expenditure.

Local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs entertained themselves in a very enjoyable manner Wednesday evening in Odd Fellows' hall, which for that special occasion was dressed up in sprays and wreaths of bridal wreath and a few suggestive orange blossoms. This was "rather sudden" and the entire evening was spent very joyously as arranged by the program committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stine Mr. and Mrs. Courtney, and Miss Laura Bulkeley. Some good music and games were enjoyed, as were the especially good "eats" which closed up the program.

The many friends of Rebecca Edwards Guenthart and her sister, Miss Nan Edwards, gathered very informally in her home on Brand boulevard on Wednesday afternoon. Many of the guests brought their children with them and they were greatly enjoyed. Cheery fires burned in the fireplaces in dining and drawing rooms and they as well as the reception hall were beautified with snowy Shasta daisies. Friends of the hostess poured tea and coffee, and dispensed the daintiest of refreshments.

After April first Mrs. Guenthart and Miss Edwards will be at home to their friends in Los Angeles.

Miss Carrie Sullivan, formerly of Dayton, Ohio, visited on Thursday with her relatives, Mesdames Harris, Belloway, Byram and Ayers. Miss Sullivan is at present sojourning in Hollywood and has been of late touring the West. She is an extensive traveler and has spent several years abroad. As an art student, she studied some time in Philadelphia and Boston and also took up carving, at which she is considered an expert. Art, travel and missionary work have taken up the time of this talented and interesting woman, and her welcome among local friends and relatives left nothing to be desired. Naturally her conversation sparkles with anecdotes drawn from the fund of her experiences.

The Occidental Glee Club will give a concert at the Masonic Hall on Wednesday, April 1st, at 8:00 p. m., under the auspices of the Presbyterian Brotherhood. All lovers of music enjoy that rendered by male voices when well rendered as the work of this Glee Club is sure to be. There is a peculiar flavor to the work of college glee clubs that is especially agreeable to all who have had, wish to have, hope to have, or are sorry that they did not have, a taste of college life. This will be one of the most popular events of the season.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Examinations for the third quarter have been on during the week and the quarterly examination cards were issued on Friday.

After the close of work Friday evening, there was a rally of the Athletic Association, preparatory to the big work that is anticipated for the track meet at the Occidental grounds today. The boys are quite sure that they will not only win many points, but that they will, indeed, be the winning school. At this meeting Mr. Stine, the president of the association, presented the captains of the Basket Ball teams with the "Big G's," which have been won by athletes the past year.

These honors are granted as a mark of distinction to those winning them by athletic work and six of them were distributed to the girls and five to the boys.

Friday of last week there was a meeting of the Literary Society, the Freshmen juniors' section furnishing the program which was an excellent one, showing great talent in some of the parts.

The picnic given last Saturday by the Juniors to the Seniors and teachers was a great success. A four-horse team furnished the means of transportation, a large platform wagon being loaded with people and provisions.

The sun couldn't help smiling on such company, so the fog fled before his smile and in the full light of a sunny forenoon the long climb was made to Fairmount. About eleven o'clock found the band at the camping place just beyond and above "Gould Castle" from which a beautiful outlook over the valley was given. It was a place such as one finds described in story books, but seldom in real life. A beautiful panorama of mountains and valleys with little chateaux here and there with the blue haze softening the colors to a lovely harmony. The old castle below gave a touch of mediaevel to the view and all felt the spirit of the day to the full. A jolly good repast was served, after which the young people distributed themselves at will among the nearby parks and canyons. Some of the boys explored the canyon to its head, climbed above the waterfall and almost attained the lofty peak beyond. About 3 o'clock the merry crowd climbed into the wagon again and turned faces homeward. The journey down the canyon was subject to many interruptions, as from time to time some object of special interest claimed attention and in many cases close examination. Many botanical specimens were secured, and when about five o'clock the crowd returned to Glendale the unanimous opinion was that the day had been well spent.

A CELEBRITY IN GLENDALE.

An Examiner reporter accompanied by the picturesque "Poet of the Sierras," Joaquin Miller, (born plain Henry Miller, by the way) took a run out to Glendale Wednesday last and sized up our town in an hour or so. If Joaquin does write us up, the oldest inhabitant doubtless will accumulate some "facts" that he never before dreamed of. Joaquin is a mighty master of the tuneful lyre, but as a reporter, he verges on the unreliable. We should have been glad to interview him. For many years the writer of these lines has had a desire to have Mr. Miller corroborate or deny some of the moving tales of his escapades up about Mount Shasta, that were told by the old settlers of that region. Being uncorroborated, yet undenied, we shall sometime write them down as history, "interesting, if true."

PRIMRAY CALLED OFF.

The useless primary election called for May 5th to ascertain the preference of Republican voters as to a presidential candidate, has been wisely called off by the State committee. The sentiment among Republicans so far as heard from is so overwhelmingly in favor of the nomination of Secretary Taft, that no primary election is required to ascertain the fact.

Voters should not confuse this with the primary to be held a day or two later for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State convention. That primary will be one of great importance, as the State convention will determine who shall represent the Republicans of California at the national convention of the party in Chicago next June.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS.

The approaching school elections to be held next Friday afteroon at the Grammar school building on Fourth street, should receive the attention of all of our citizens and they should show their interest in school matters by turning out to the polls to elect two trustees for the grammar school district and one for the Union High School district, on that date. Matters of great interest to all of our people will require the supervision of these officials during their term in office. The question of another school building for the grammar school will doubtless have to be determined upon, the probability being that we shall soon be called upon to vote bonds for that purpose. It is going to be a difficult problem to provide school facilities for our rapidly increasing number of young people. In selecting trustees care should be taken to get good men who have no special interest or locality to serve. The terms of Mr. Williams and Mr. Doyle expire and successors are to be elected for two and three-year terms The school is in a state of commendable efficiency, and we hope to see trustees selected who will keep it up to its present high standard.

At the same time and place electors will vote upon a trustee from this district to fill a place upon the High School board, Mr. Goode's term expiring. Mr. Goode's services have been so satisfactory that there is little doubt as to his re-election. The project for a new High School will soon come up before the people for decision and the position of a trustee on this board is an important one.

The polls will be open from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. next Friday.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The March meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society was a second time deferred in order to permit attendance upon the very important exercises of last Tuesday in the First M. E. Church of Los Angeles, when John R. Mott and F. S. Brockman gave such stirring and instructive addresses on missions.

The ladies will meet next Tuesday at the appointed time and place, 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. H. M. Byram. Foreign topic, "Africa." Home topic, "Systematic Giving." Reports will be heard from the recent annual meeting of the Presbyterial Society at Pasadena, and attention will be given to plans for the work of the coming year.

NEW VAULT AT CITY HALL.

As a protection against fire, for the many important books and documents of the city, a concrete vault has been built at the north end of the city hall. It is six feet high, the other dimensions four by five feet. It will not only serve present necessities, but the door and the most of the concrete blocks composing the walls can readily be removed to another site when necessary.

LINCOLN-ROOSEVELT REPUBLICAN LEAGUE MEETING AT TROPICO.

Mr. A. I. Stewart will address the Republican voters of Tropico, at Logan's Hall this (Saturday) evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Stewart is familiar with "organization" (Southern Pacific) methods in politics and talks interestingly on the subject. A large attendance is expected.

Y. C. T. U. NOTES.

At the last meeting of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Gaylord was re-elected president, Mrs. Harn corresponding secretary, Mrs. Evans recording secretary, and Mrs. Ayers treasurer. Mrs. Beal was re-elected president of the L. T. L. An interesting program, commemorating the life and work of Neal Dow was carried out.

The bones discovered in Java seventeen years ago by Dr. Dubois and named by him the Pithecanthropus erectus, for short, and during that period accepted by high scientific authority as the "missing link," have finally been proved to be the remains of a human, belonging to a comparatively recent geological age.

And so the yearning of the evolutionary scientist for evidence proving his lineal descent from simian ancestry is still unsatisfied.

TAKE WARNING ANONYMOUS LETTER WRITER!

A number of prominent society ladies of Tropico are considerably agitated over the receipt of the following note addressed to Mrs. Lillian L. Peckham, gracious and cultured lady, who conducts a dancing class for children at Logan's hall every Saturday afternoon:

"Dear Friend: Please read this book, it may open your eyes. You and the other ladies are doing a great work for the Devil in Tropico. Be not deceived. God is not mocked. Whatsoever a man or woman soweth that shall he also reap.

"What will your harvest be?"

"Sincerely,

"A TRUE FRIEND."

"Please pass it on to the Public Library, when you have finished it."

"The above is an exact copy of an annonymous note sent to me the other day and it was accompanied by a paper covered book entitled, 'From the Ball Room to Hell.' I have no other way of answering the annonymous writer except by this public note, therefore I take this occasion to say to him or her that I am not vexed nor grieved. I can only pity the narrowness of your vision and I earnestly invite you whoever you are to visit my little children's dancing class, which meets every Saturday afternoon from two till four at Logan's hall, Tropico. How very uncomfortable his Satanic Majesty would feel in the charming circle of dear little boys and girls in which we all find so much of interest and innocent enjoyment, for an hour or two each week.

"The only thing I criticise you about is sending such a vile and positively indecent book to me with the suggestion that I read it and then turn it over to the Public Library. I started to examine the book, but quit, because the contents are unfit for a self-respecting person to read, and really I believe the postal authorities would severely punish you for sending it through the mails were they advised. However, I shall drop this matter and the book will be destroyed and all evidence of your indiscretion obliterated.

"But pray, be careful in the future how you send out such reeking, filthy and, I might say, to quote you, "devilish" stuff, under the guise of religion(?). You mean all right, but I repeat, be careful.

"Yours very truly,

"MRS. LILLIAN L. PECKHAM."

STAR FORWARD HONORED.

To honor the —th birthday of Miss Pearl Goode, star forward for the Glendale Union High school's girls' basket ball team, a number of happy events were planned for Saturday. In the afternoon Miss Goode was entertained in the city, a matinee being part of the enjoyment. At six o'clock a birthday dinner of several courses was given for her and "part of the bunch" at the home of Miss Berenice Williams, Cedar street. A birthday cake reposed on the wreath of waxen blossoms which hid the hand-painted place cards. These were drawn out with violet satin ribbons, and were found to contain the names hidden in the guise of original maxims, and a jolly guessing contest ensued before places were found.

Later came a hurry call for the honoree from her mother, and sojourning to her home Miss Goode found it filled with flowers and High School pupils. Dancing was thoroughly enjoyed until interrupted by the bounteous supper.
